

Security Risk Assessment

Have our experts help you prevent disaster before it occurs

The consequences and cost of compromised healthcare data can be staggering. In addition to the liability of leaked patient medical records and financial data, compliance certifications can be revoked and substantial fines levied. Reputation damage could be devastating.

A Security Risk Assessment (SRA) by Coeus Healthcare Managed Services will not only help you avoid a security disaster, but also give you the confidence that you are meeting the latest HIPAA and Meaningful Use requirements.

As exclusive healthcare IT security and compliance experts, engaging Coeus HMS for your SRA can not only allow you to focus more on improving patient care, but also give you the confidence that your SRA includes the latest threat, safeguard and compliance considerations.

SRA Essential Components

Our SRA includes a complete examination of these essentials:

- Review of PHI inventory to determine where electronic and other data is located
- Examination of the three safeguards required by 45 CFS 164.308 (a) (1) — administrative, physical and technical, including the latest Omnibus rules (This is a facet many assessment providers overlook)
- Assessment of current HIPAA security compliance operations including safeguards in place, as well as vulnerabilities and specific threats to safeguards
- Evaluation of existing security policies and procedures

Comprehensive Findings & Recommendations

Coeus HMS provides a comprehensive, audit-ready report with findings and recommendations that includes detailed vulnerabilities and remediation recommendations. Remediation may include outsourcing disaster recovery, backup and restore processes, information hosting, and perimeter testing through a HIPAA-compliant, cloud-based infrastructure. With this option both IT and security burdens are offloaded to seasoned experts.
